

DUS News Digest

December 3, 2010 to December 10, 2010

Union Station Update #45.....Page 2
December 8, 2010 Denver Infill Blog

Union Station Update #45

Page 2

December 8, 2010

By Rick Anstey, Denver Infill Blog

Kiewit crews continue preparation for laying track at the new light rail station and at the temporary Amtrak station. Here is a pictorial update of both sites.

Also notice in the second photo that additional recycled canopies have been installed at the Amtrak station. I wonder why the passenger platform (and canopies) bend to the right? Perhaps, it is necessary to allow space for construction of permanent tracks for commuter rail and other trains behind Union Station. I'll get the answer next week. In the meantime, we can speculate.